SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Record Group 191, Tennessee Supreme Court Clerk's Records, consists of various Supreme Court records spanning the years, 1810-1955 (a few subseries extend beyond this date; the cutoff date of 1955 is made to correspond with RG 170, the original trial cases of all three divisions of the TN Sup. Ct.). This collection consists largely of court minute books, opinion books, and enrollment books. Smaller series include docket books, financial records, and case histories. Miscellaneous volumes include three order books, one volume of certiorari cases, one judgement index, and two volumes listing removed records. This total collection consists of 471 volumes.

The collection has been arranged into categories or series as designated by the spine or title page of the various volumes. Most of the volumes in this collection include indexes. Researchers need to be aware that the volume numbers have been ascribed by TSLA staff. Original volume numbers are scant. Original volume numbers when known are designated within parenthesis alongside the archivist's ascribed number.

This collection is largely comprised of records of the Middle TN division, with some West TN records, and no East TN records. These records have come to the TSLA in several ways, and have been combined into this one group. Many of the original Middle TN records have been deposited here and subsequently filmed. Other records were filmed on location, or sent here for filming and returned. Most of the series are complete and in chronological order. Only a few gaps are found, and it is presumed that these missing volumes may be found at the local depositories. The researcher needs to be aware of some confusion found in dating volumes; especially because of the inherent problem of original trial dates and dates of appeal, as well as numerous dates that overlap.

A better understanding of court records was provided to us by Mr. A.B. Neil, Jr., present Middle Tennessee Supreme Court Clerk, and his staff. Law and equity cases are separated because of their origin. Law and equity cases are born from the county's circuit and chancery courts, respectively. The "file" date is the official date upon which a trial case is initially received by the Supreme Court. Enrollment records are lists of cases filed, inferring that the Supreme Court has consented to review the case. Docket books are basic catalogs of cases. Certiorari cases are cases called up by the Supreme Court from an inferior court. The clerk also defined in laymen's terms the general distinctions between circuit and chancery court. 1) Chancery court generally hears causes where damages are known in advance, i.e. interpretation of wills, contracts, deeds, and property rights; 2) circuit court generally hears causes where damages are not known in advance, or are unliquidated.

TENNESSEE SUPREME COURT

Historical Sketch

The following historical sketch of Tennessee's Supreme Court, was compiled from both: Sketches of The Bench and Bar of Tennessee, by Joshua W. Caldwell, chapters III and XIII, and Phases of the History of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, by Samuel C. Williams, pages 75-86. These two resources are available in the TSLA. Of special note is that only since 1834 has the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court been appellate only.

- 1796 Tennessee's original constitution made no provision for a Supreme Court. (Tenn. retained the court system of N.C., which comprised two permanent courts: 1) the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, equivalent to a County Court with an enlarged jurisdiction; and 2) the Superior Court of Law and Equity, having both an original jurisdiction, and an appellate jurisdiction in cases coming from the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions).
- 1809 By legislative Act the Supreme Court of Errors and Appeals was created. This Court consisted of two judges, and a third judge being from one of the five circuits. This Court would sit at: 1) Jonesboro, for the Washington District; 2) Knoxville, for the Hamilton District; 3) Nashville, for the Mero District; 4) Clarksville, for the Robertson District (consisting of Robertson, Montgomery, Dickson and Stewart Counties) and; 5) Carthage, for the Winchester District (Consisting of Jackson, Smith and Wilson Counties). These circuits were later designated by numbers. In 1806 the Robertson and Winchester Districts were carved from the Mero District.
- 1811 By legislative Act, the third circuit judge was removed from the Supreme Court. This same Act gave exclusive jurisdiction to the Supreme Court of all equity cases.
- 1812 Seat of Washington District was changed to Rogersville from Jonesboro.
- 1813 The Legislature again granted the circuit courts concurrent jurisdiction in equity cases.
- 1819 Appeals from circuit courts were allowed to be heard by the Supreme Court.
- 1821 The Supreme Court added a third judge to its court to compensate for its new duties of holding chancery courts.
- 1827 Two district courts of chancery were created to relieve the duties of the Supreme Court. Reynoldsburg, a town that later became lost when the county seat, stage road, and ferry crossing were moved, was named as an additional site for holding the Supreme Court.

- 1834 Constitutional Convention of 1834 finally created the Supreme Court, removing it from the arm of the General Assembly. These Constitutional changes also for the first time limited the Supreme Court to appellate jurisdiction only. The Legislature fixed Knoxville, Nashville, and Jackson as the seats of the Supreme Court.
- 1853 Amendment to Constitution changed tenure of judges from twelve years to eight, and also placed the election of Supreme Court Judges in the hands of all qualified voters.
- 1870 Constitutional Convention revised Supreme Court. Six judges, two from each grand \ division, were to comprise the Court. Any vacancy after 1873 would not be filled reducing the number to five. The number of Supreme Court Judges has remained at five to this day. (This was deemed necessary to compensate for the accumulation of business generated by the Court's suspension during the war.)
- 1873 The Arbitration Court for Middle Tennessee was created to assist in the arrears of cases.
- 1875 Another Arbitration Court was created for Middle Tennessee and also one for West Tennessee.
- 1877 Arbitration Courts were again created for Middle and West Tennessee. (These courts were impaired because of their inability to enforce final decrees.)
- 1883 The Courts of Referees were created, composed of nine members, three from each grand division. The reports of the Referees were final. The term of these courts expired April 1, 1886.
- 1895 The caseload of the Supreme Court continued a steady increase. The Court of Chancery Appeals was created as a permanent body. This court was composed of three members, one from each grand division. This court heard chancery causes assigned to it by the Supreme Court. Its decrees were final and enforceable by the Court.
